We're excited to share how God has moved through the singles ministry in 2024—it's truly been an incredible year! The highlight was, without a doubt, the North American Singles Conference (NASCON) held at the end of August. With 1,700 singles gathering together—including many from around the world—it was a remarkable time of connection, worship, and growth.

This year's conference was especially historic because every main stage moment was led entirely by singles. From preaching and worship to acting, scripture reading, prayer, and personal sharing, singles took full ownership of the program—something never before done in the history of NASCON within the ICOC fellowship. This milestone wasn't just symbolic but a powerful testament to the capability, leadership, and heart of singles within our churches.

Throughout the conference, we focused on equipping disciples to recognize God's work in the world, respond to his calling, and engage faithfully in his Kingdom. There were many stories of personal transformation, deepened faith, and new friendships formed across nations. Attendees left encouraged, challenged, and eager to share what they have learned with their local ministries.
